Class of 2015 CAMC Nurse Education Financial Assistance Program

Frequently Asked Questions

Nursing as a Career

1. Why is CAMC offering this educational financial assistance program?

Nurses are critical to the care and well-being of hospitalized patients. They are the caregiver that is at the bedside 24-hours a day, communicating with the physician, assessing the patient’s responses to treatment and intervening as changes occur. National projections show a nursing shortage of more than 300,000 by the year 2020. CAMC isn’t taking the impending nursing shortage for granted. Working with higher education, CAMC is hoping to fill a predicted gap between nurses needed to care for patients and those actually employed. The CAMC and Kanawha Valley Community and Technical College collaborative is one of our recruitment strategies to ensure CAMC and the community will have the nurses that will be needed in the future.

While nursing programs traditionally graduate students in the spring, CAMC’s program will graduate students in December. This helps increase the number of graduate nurses available at the beginning of each year, as opposed to only having a new group of nurses each spring. This also increases the amount of nurses available to work during the winter viral season when there is typically a rise in patient census.

2. What college will be providing the associate degree in nursing?

Kanawha Valley Community and Technical College (KVCTC) (formerly West Virginia State Community and Technical College).

3. When will applicants selected for the CAMC Nurse Education Financial Assistance Program begin taking classes?

Students will begin taking general education courses in the summer and fall of 2013. The actual nursing courses will begin in January of 2014.

4. When will students graduate from the Class of 2015 CAMC Nurse Education Financial Assistance Program?

Students who progress satisfactorily and meet KVCTC’s nursing program requirements graduate December of 2015.
5. What job opportunities are available for new graduate nurses at CAMC?

CAMC employs over 1,700 registered nurses who work in various departments throughout the medical center. To learn more about nursing opportunities at CAMC visit our website: www.camc.org. Under Careers click on Nursing, and click on Nurse Education Financial Assistance Program.

6. What physical demands are required as a nurse?

While nursing can be rewarding in helping others, there are physical demands that must be considered. Nurses work long hours while standing on their feet for long periods of time. Lifting is also a requirement of the job.

7. What qualities does CAMC want their nurses to have?

CAMC’s mission is, “Striving to provide the best health care to every patient, every day”. Core values we want employees to possess include:

- Respect – recognizing the dignity and contribution each individual brings.
- Integrity – being honest in dealing with patients.
- Stewardship – utilizing the wise resources to achieve our mission and the community’s health care needs.
- Quality – striving for excellence in the care of our patients.
- Service with compassion – providing patient care with concern, compassion, courtesy and skill.
- Safety – being devoted to the safe environment for patients, staff, visitors and volunteers.

8. What will I be paid as a registered nurse?

CAMC offers a competitive hourly rate based on market survey data. The current hourly rate for a newly-licensed graduate nurse is $19.50. This does not include shift differential. For more than 15 years, staff RNs at CAMC have had the opportunity to receive recognition and additional compensation through a four-tiered Clinical Career Ladder. Advancing the Clinical Career Ladder recognizes and rewards excellence in nursing care at the patient bedside and thereby demonstrates the commitment of CAMC and its nursing staff to providing the best and most advanced care in the region.

CAMC also offers a variety of benefits for employees that include: health, dental, pharmacy, employee, spouse and child term life insurance, accidental death and dismemberment insurance. Flexible spending accounts are also available to employees. Regular full time employees are eligible for short and long term disability. Paid time off is accrued annually.
To learn more about nursing compensation and benefits at CAMC visit our website: www.camc.org, click on Nursing, and go to Nurse Education Financial Assistance Program.

9. Selected applicants do not begin the Associate Degree in Nursing Program until 2014, why is the application process now?

There is an extensive selection process for identifying students for the educational opportunity. Pursuing a degree in nursing can be challenging, so we want to make sure we identify participants that are willing to make not only the personal commitment, but who are academically ready in order to be successful.

10. How many students will CAMC identify for the education financial assistance program?

KVCTC will allow CAMC to identify up to 45 students.

11. Where can I get more information that will help me decide on whether a nursing career is right for me?

Educational Costs and Participant Obligations

54. What expenses are covered by CAMC’s Nurse Education Financial Assistance Program?

All direct expenses, such as tuition, textbooks, and fees, will be paid by CAMC. Students are encouraged to complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) as soon after January 1, 2013, as possible and prior to March 1, 2013, in...
In order to determine the amount of financial aid each student may be eligible to receive. CAMC will continue to be the “first award”.

55. If I am selected to participate, what are my obligations to CAMC in exchange for the education financial assistance program?

You will be required to sign a contractual agreement. In exchange for the educational expenses, you will be agreeing to: Accept full-time employment as an RN for three years, if offered by CAMC, following successful graduation. Full-time means eighty (80) work hours per bi-weekly pay period. In addition, maintain the minimum requirements as set forth by KVCTC throughout your college course work and ADN Program; allow CAMC to inspect records or other information to ensure compliance with the terms of agreement and to ensure academic progress; allow CAMC to obtain information regarding any/all scholarships, grants or other sources of educational assistance; remain a student until completion of the ADN program; if employed by a company of the CAMC Health System, remain employed during the ADN Program; and obtain and maintain registered nurse licensure. Students must have their nursing license prior to beginning employment.

56. May I work in a status other than full time after I graduate?

No, employees must provide full time employment* during the work commitment period which is three years. Employees are not eligible to work in a prorata status until the terms of the agreement have been met or the expenses have been paid in full.

*Full time services as defined in the Employee Handbook, p. B-18, “Regular full-time employees are those who work an average of forty (40) hours per week, or eighty (80) hours per fourteen (14) day pay period, on a regular basis.”

57. What happens if I am unable to meet the terms of the contractual agreement?

If you are unable to meet the contractual terms of the agreement, you must repay the full amount of the money expended. Interest may be applied to the balance due. The full amount would be due no later than 30 days from the date you default on any provision in the Agreement. Applicants must understand that by signing the agreement you are agreeing to pay the money expended through a work commitment. CAMC is providing this opportunity solely for the purpose of inducing students to complete the ADN Program and to utilize their training as a registered nurse at CAMC for three years.

58. When will I sign a contract with CAMC?
CAMC Workforce Development staff will meet with students selected to go over the terms of the Contractual Agreement.

Applicants Employed by CAMC

59. Can any employee apply regardless of employment status and years of service?

Any employee can apply regardless of their status and years of service.

60. I am presently in an exempt status position at CAMC, am I still eligible for the educational opportunity?

To participate in the program, exempt employees do not have the option to go without pay for the four hours of a reduced work schedule. They would either need to use PTO, PPTO, or work the additional 4 hours. The other option would be for the exempt employee to find a non-exempt position that can accommodate the reduced work schedule program guidelines as written.

61. If I work at CAMC but live in another state, am I eligible to participate?

You must be a resident of West Virginia because tuition is based on in-state costs.

62. I am employed by CAMC and have a written warning on file, am I still eligible?

Employees who are on performance probation or who have received a written warning or suspension within the last 12 months (12 months from application deadline date of May 31, 2012) are not eligible to participate.

63. I understand that employees in a regular full-time status may be eligible for a reduced work schedule while taking required classes. What is a reduced work schedule and how does it work?

Employees in a regular full time status (excluding employees in a pro-rata status) are scheduled to work less than 40 hours each week in a semester. The reduced work schedule in which an employee will be eligible is based on the college credit hours they are taking. For example, if an employee is taking 12 credit hours in the spring semester, he/she will be scheduled to work 24 hours, but paid for 36 hours. The employee has the option to use 4 hours of PTO or PPTO bringing them to 40 hours for that week. The employee also has the option of taking 4 hours of voluntary reduction, thus he/she would be paid for 36 hours for that week. Employees will maintain full time benefits, if applicable, and PTO accrual. This will be explained in more detail for employees selected. NOTE: See Question 65 regarding alternative work schedule.

64. May I work in a status other than full time after I graduate?
No, employees must provide full time employment* during the work commitment period which is three years. Employees are not eligible to work in a prorata status until the terms of the agreement have been met or the loan balance accrued is paid off.

*Full time services as defined in the Employee Handbook, p. B-18, “Regular full-time employees are those who work an average of forty (40) hours per week, or eighty (80) hours per fourteen (14) day pay period, on a regular basis.”

65. What is an alternative work schedule?

An alternative work schedule is based on your school schedule and the manager’s coverage needs. For example, if you typically work a day shift, Monday through Friday, your manager will schedule your work hours around your school schedule, which may require you to work evenings and/or weekends. Hours you will be scheduled are based on your employment status for the exception of employees in a full-time status. Employees in a full-time status will also be eligible for a reduced work schedule. NOTE: See Question 63 regarding reduced work schedule.

66. What will I do if my manager cannot accommodate alternative hours?

You may need to consider identifying another position in the organization for which you are qualified. However, the manager in that department must be able to accommodate alternative work hours.
